

D. Benjamin Gribben Artist

Ben was born on May 13 1989
in Oshawa, Ontario.

Ben is Tahltan First Nation from northern British Columbia, grandson of Nora Edzerdza & son of Rhoda Merkel and Dan Gribben.

Ben moved up to the Yukon in 2001 and has been drawing off & on ever since. Ben really started creating art in 2004 by drawing comic characters of his own, called 'The Breed'. He is skilled in painting, carving, and designing. Ben likes carving plaques, paddles, rattles, and bowls.

His favourite medium is a simple pencil and piece of paper, although he also enjoys working in wood.

Ben likes to listen to any kind of music - he feels it helps him concentrate and work harder.

Ben feels that when he is working on a piece of art the anger or love flows into the wood or paper. Ben also believes that, like singing or dancing, drawing is another form of expression to finding your inner self.
